Interest Rate & Annual Percentage Yield
Compounding &amp; Crediting	Interest will be compounded on a monthly basis. Interest will be credited to your account on the last day of the current Statement Cycle. If you close your account before the interest is credited, you will receive the accrued interest with your final withdrawal or closing amount. Interest begins to accrue on the business day of deposit for noncash on-us items. Interest begins to accrue on the Business Day following the day you deposit noncash foreign items (for example, checks). "Business Day" means a calendar day other than a Saturday, Sunday or a Federal Holiday. For holidays falling on Sunday, the following Monday is not a business day.
Balance Computation Method	We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your account. This method applies a periodic rate to the principal in the account each day for the period. The period we use is a Statement Cycle. You will accrue no interest on your account for the days your daily balance is $99.99 or less.
Statement Cycle	Statement cycles are defined below in this disclosure.
Annual Percentage Yield (APY)	The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) associated with your account may change. See Current Deposit Rates for Interest Rate and APY. Rate changes are at the Bank's discretion and are subject to change on the account daily.
